Hello, everyone. Thank you for having me.

My name is Indrojit Dhe Shaon, and I want to talk about essential things in my life.

The most important things in my life are education, family, discipline, hard work, and time management. These help me stay focused and achieve my goals.

Through education, I learn new skills and gain the confidence to face real-life challenges.

Family is always an important part of my life because my family always supports and motivates me. Their love and guidance help me stay positive during difficult times.

Discipline plays an important role in my daily life and helps me stay focused on my goals. It is very difficult to achieve long-term success without discipline.

Time management is essential because it helps me use my time wisely and avoid wasting it.

Lastly, hard work is the foundation of success, and it teaches me patience and responsibility.

That's all. Thank you, everyone, for listening to me.
